The world of the 1960's is daily becoming more and more complex. The road to success slopes upward ever more steeply, and may be ascended only with much hard work and many long hours of striving. Science and mathematics have steadily gained importance, until it now seems that in their knowledge rests the key to the future. Improvements and new ways of thought appear almost every day, and technology and research have grown into major divisions of progress.

The man of today has changed little by little from what he was twenty, or even ten, years ago. Through necessity, he has learned to cope with progress, and, though his change has occurred so slowly that few have noticed it, has become a creature as modern as his environment. Modern man has evolved into a being that follows the news, reads avidly, and utilizes new products to his advantage almost as soon as they appear. New entertainments have given relief to the world of science, and man has remained amused and amusing. He seeks enjoyment just as relentlessly as he strives to reach the summit of success. And, amid the world's controversy, political rivalry, and international enmity, man still forms friendship, as a fulfillment of himself, and as a refuge in time of indecision or trouble.

It is our hope that this volume somewhat reflects the spirit of this modern man. May this volume give pleasure to all who may glance at it, and may it meet the approval of you, its readers, for whom it was made.

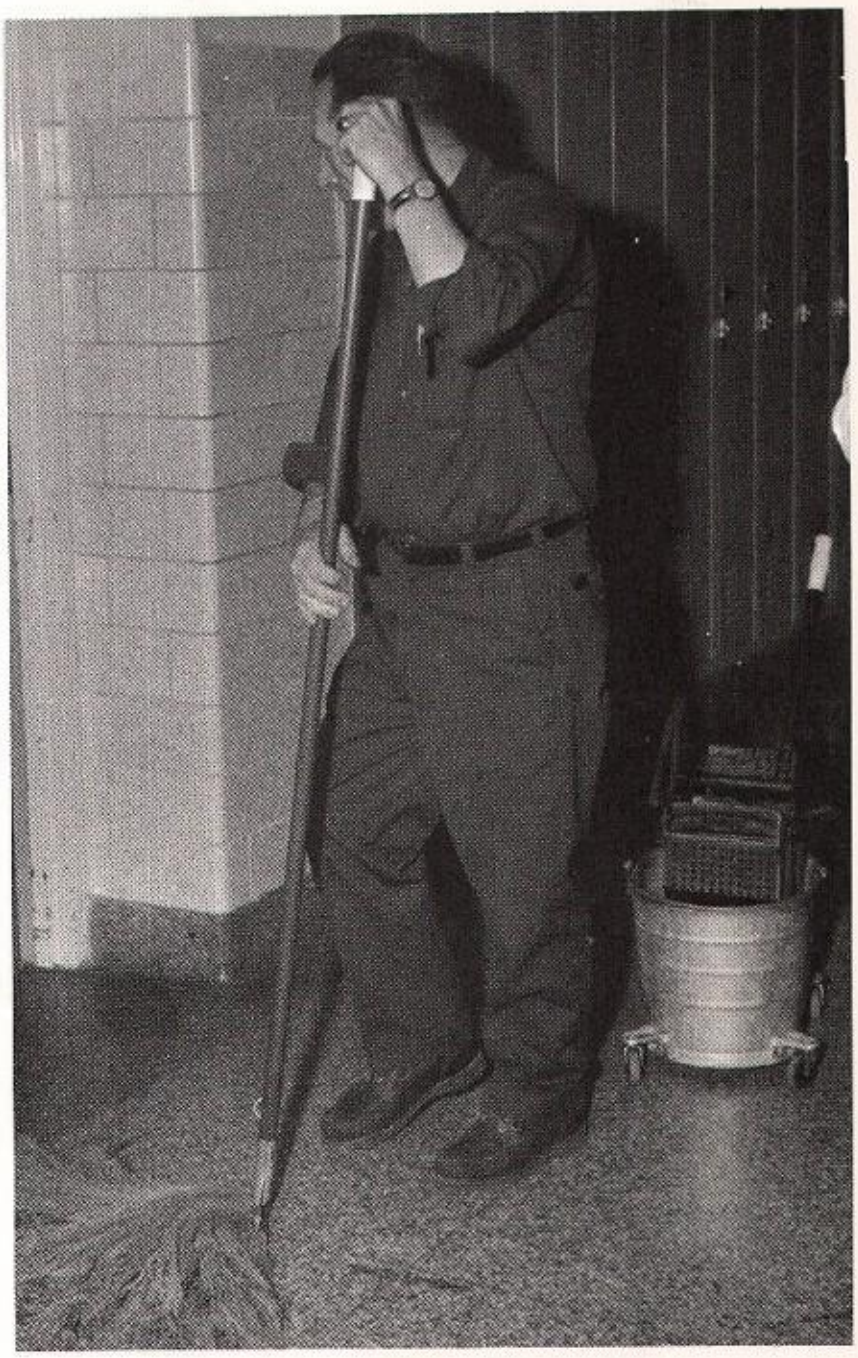
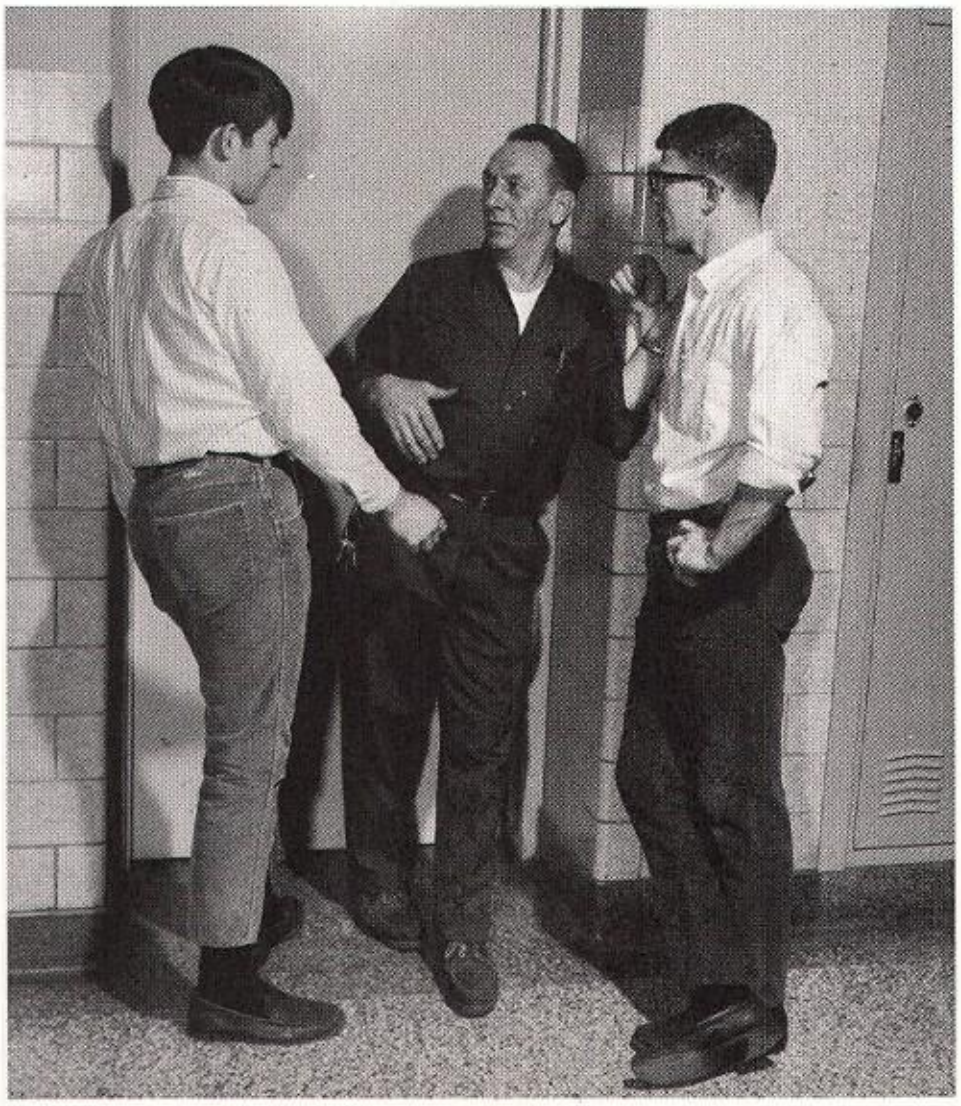
Charles J. Fierro

By Popular Vote

Of all the friendly people at Salamanca High School, one of the most friendly is Mr. Charles Fierro. Known by everyone as "Charlie", Mr. Fierro has the job of helping to care for the school building. As a member of the custodial staff, it is Charlie's job to clean, repair and to maintain the high school. He may be found at any time, often occupied with a broom or a mop, but never too busy to stop for a minute and laugh or say hello. It is not at all unusual to see Charlie with one or two boys, joking with them, or accompanying them on a stroll down the hall. His sincerity is shown by a smile, or by his arm on a shoulder. On behalf of the Class of 1967, the Seneca staff would like to say thank-you, Mr. Fierro, and to you we dedicate our yearbook, hoping that it will show at least a small part of our appreciation.



Cleaning is only one of Charlie's duties as a custodian.



Charlie often spends his free time in joking with students.

In Memoriam

Mr. Louis Rossman

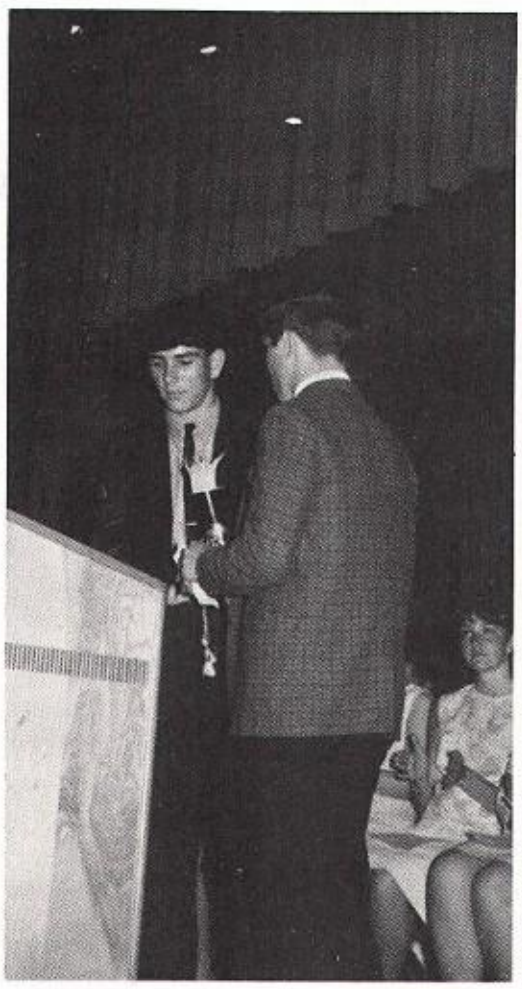
Life has loveliness to sell—
All beautiful and splendid things,
Blue waves whitened on a cliff,
Climbing fire that sways and sings,
And children's faces looking up
Holding wonder like a cup.

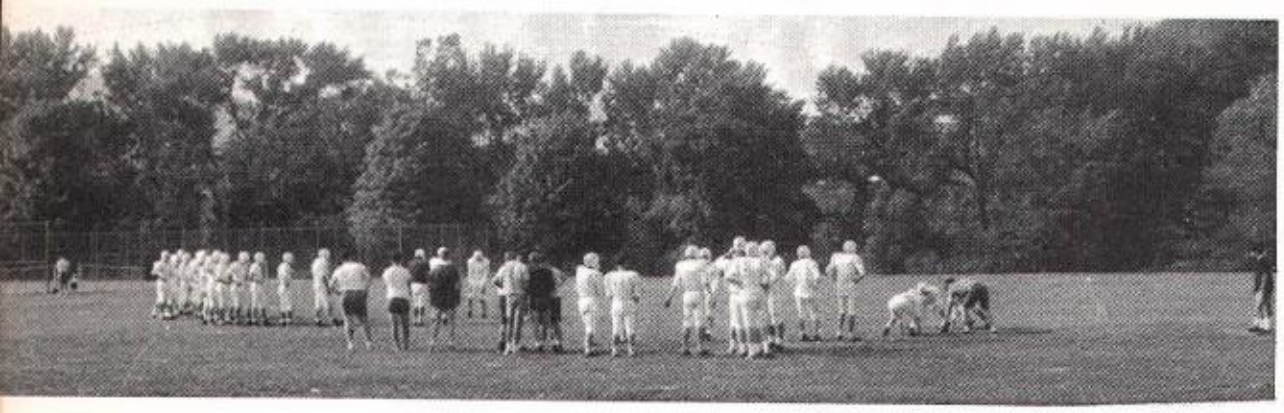
Life has loveliness to sell—
Music like a curve of gold,
Scent of pine trees in the rain,
Eyes that love you, arms that hold,
And for your spirit's still delight,
Holy thoughts that star the night.

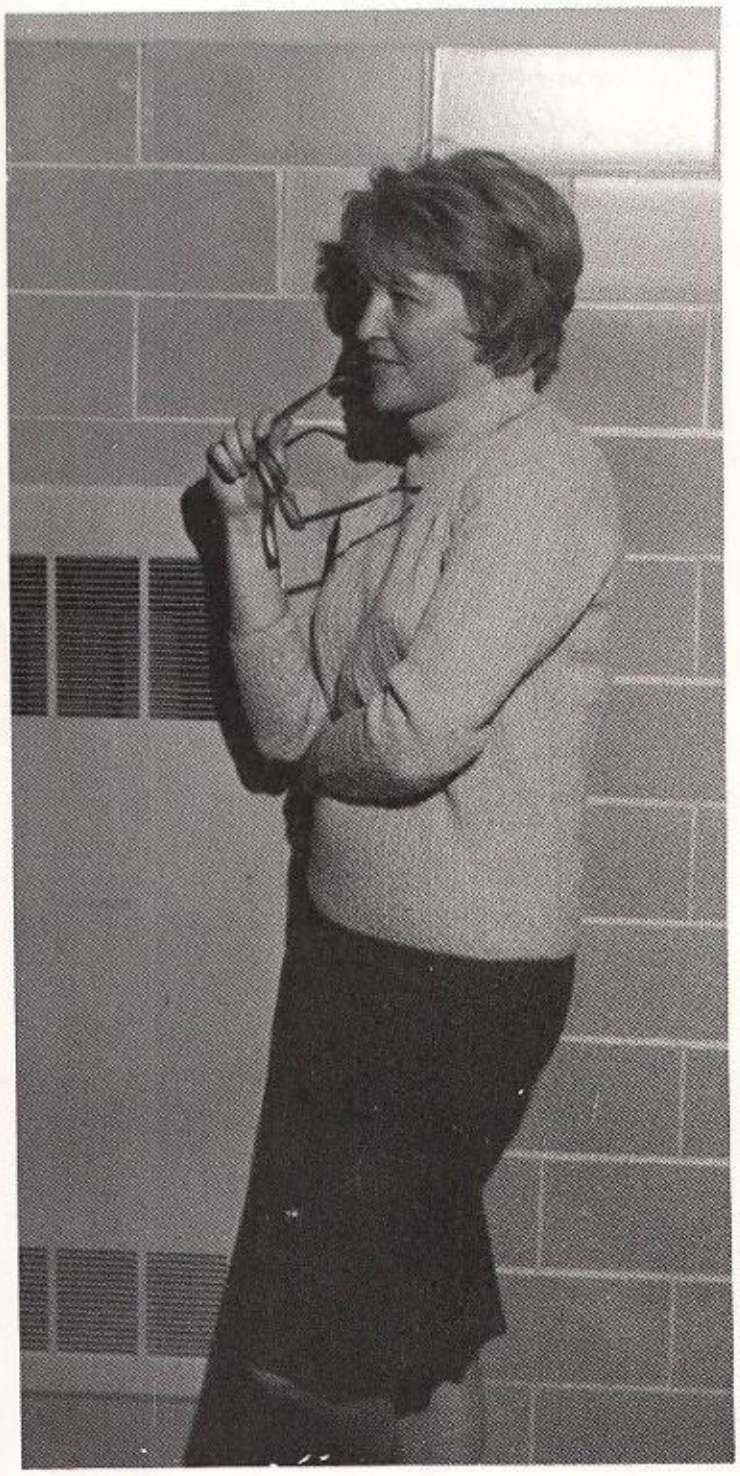
Spend all you have for loveliness,
Buy it and never count the cost,
For one white singing hour of peace
Count many a year of strife well lost,
And for a breath of ecstasy,
Give all you have been or could be.

—Sara Teasdale

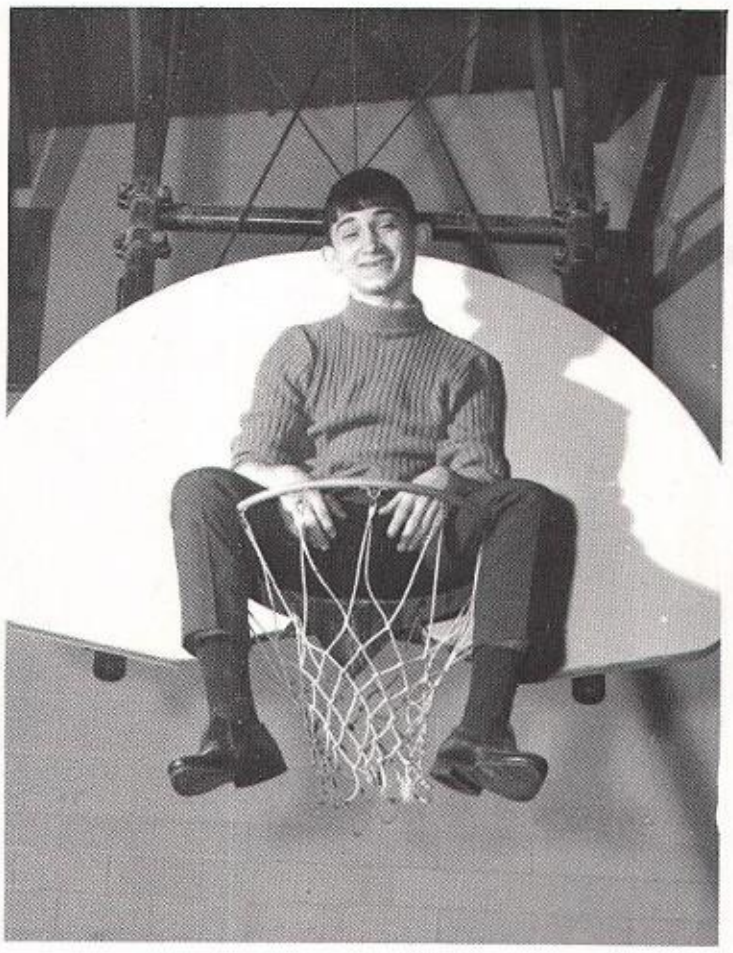
CANDIDS

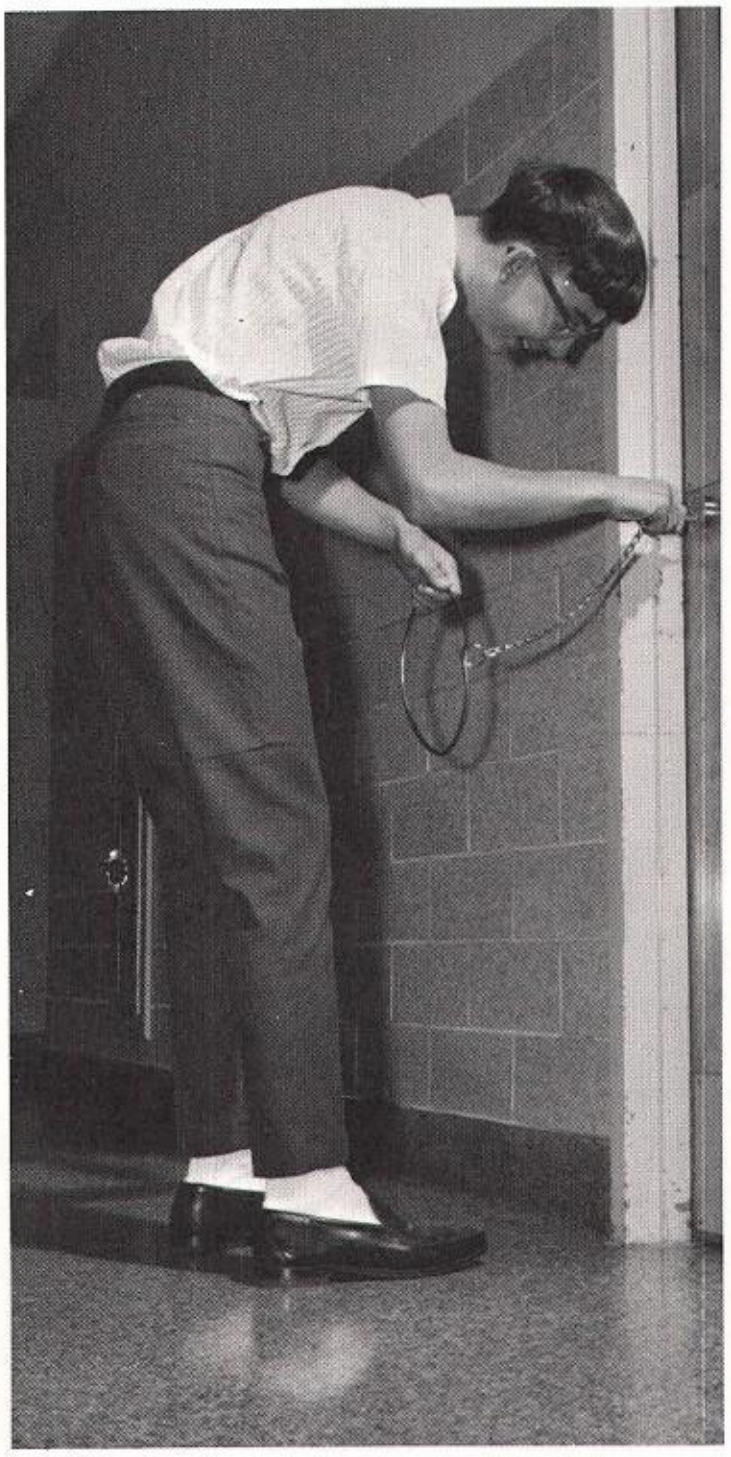


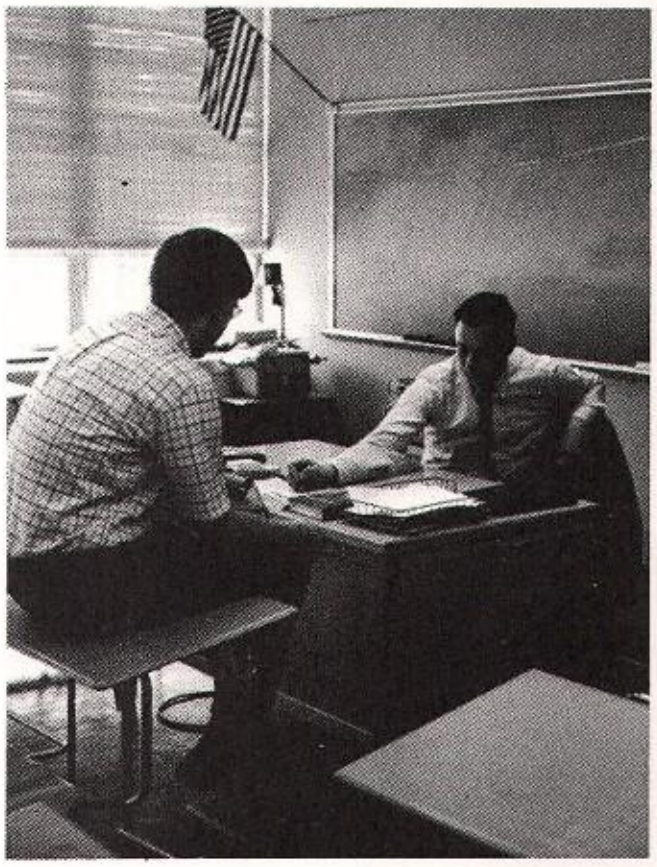


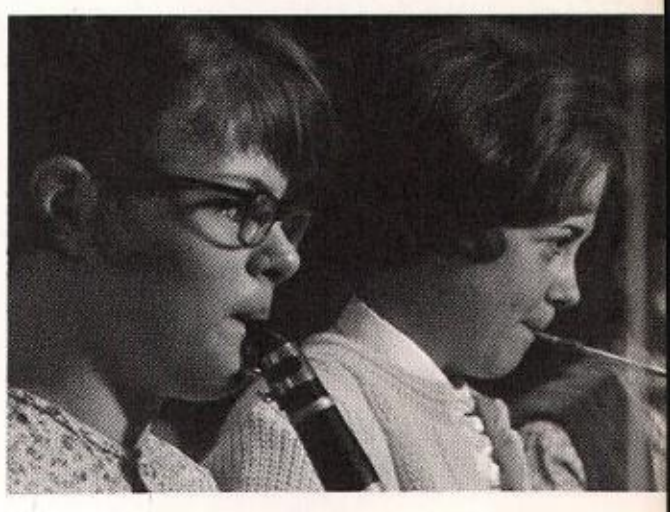


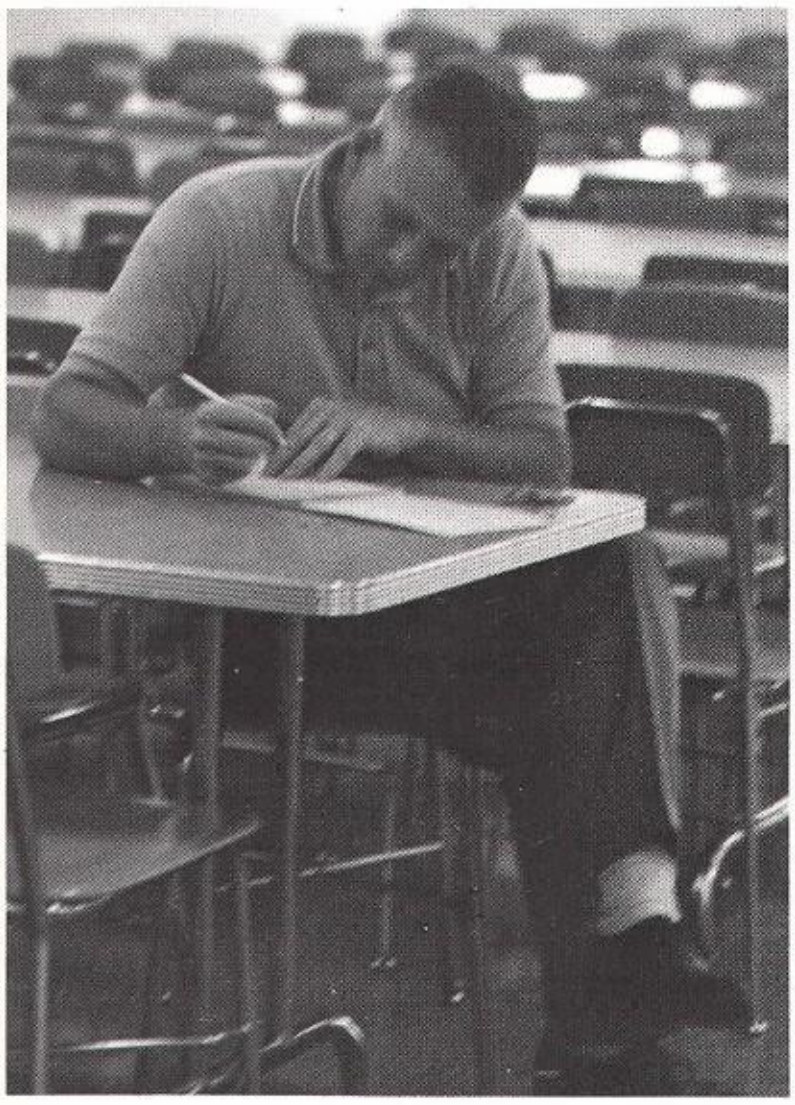
What was this year ... It was hectic, howling, and hysterical ... We pushed and worked and worked ... We worked and worked and WORKED ... but fun we had and much we learned ... and Whether hatter, teacher, sailor, cook, or astrophysicist we become ... It all began right here—





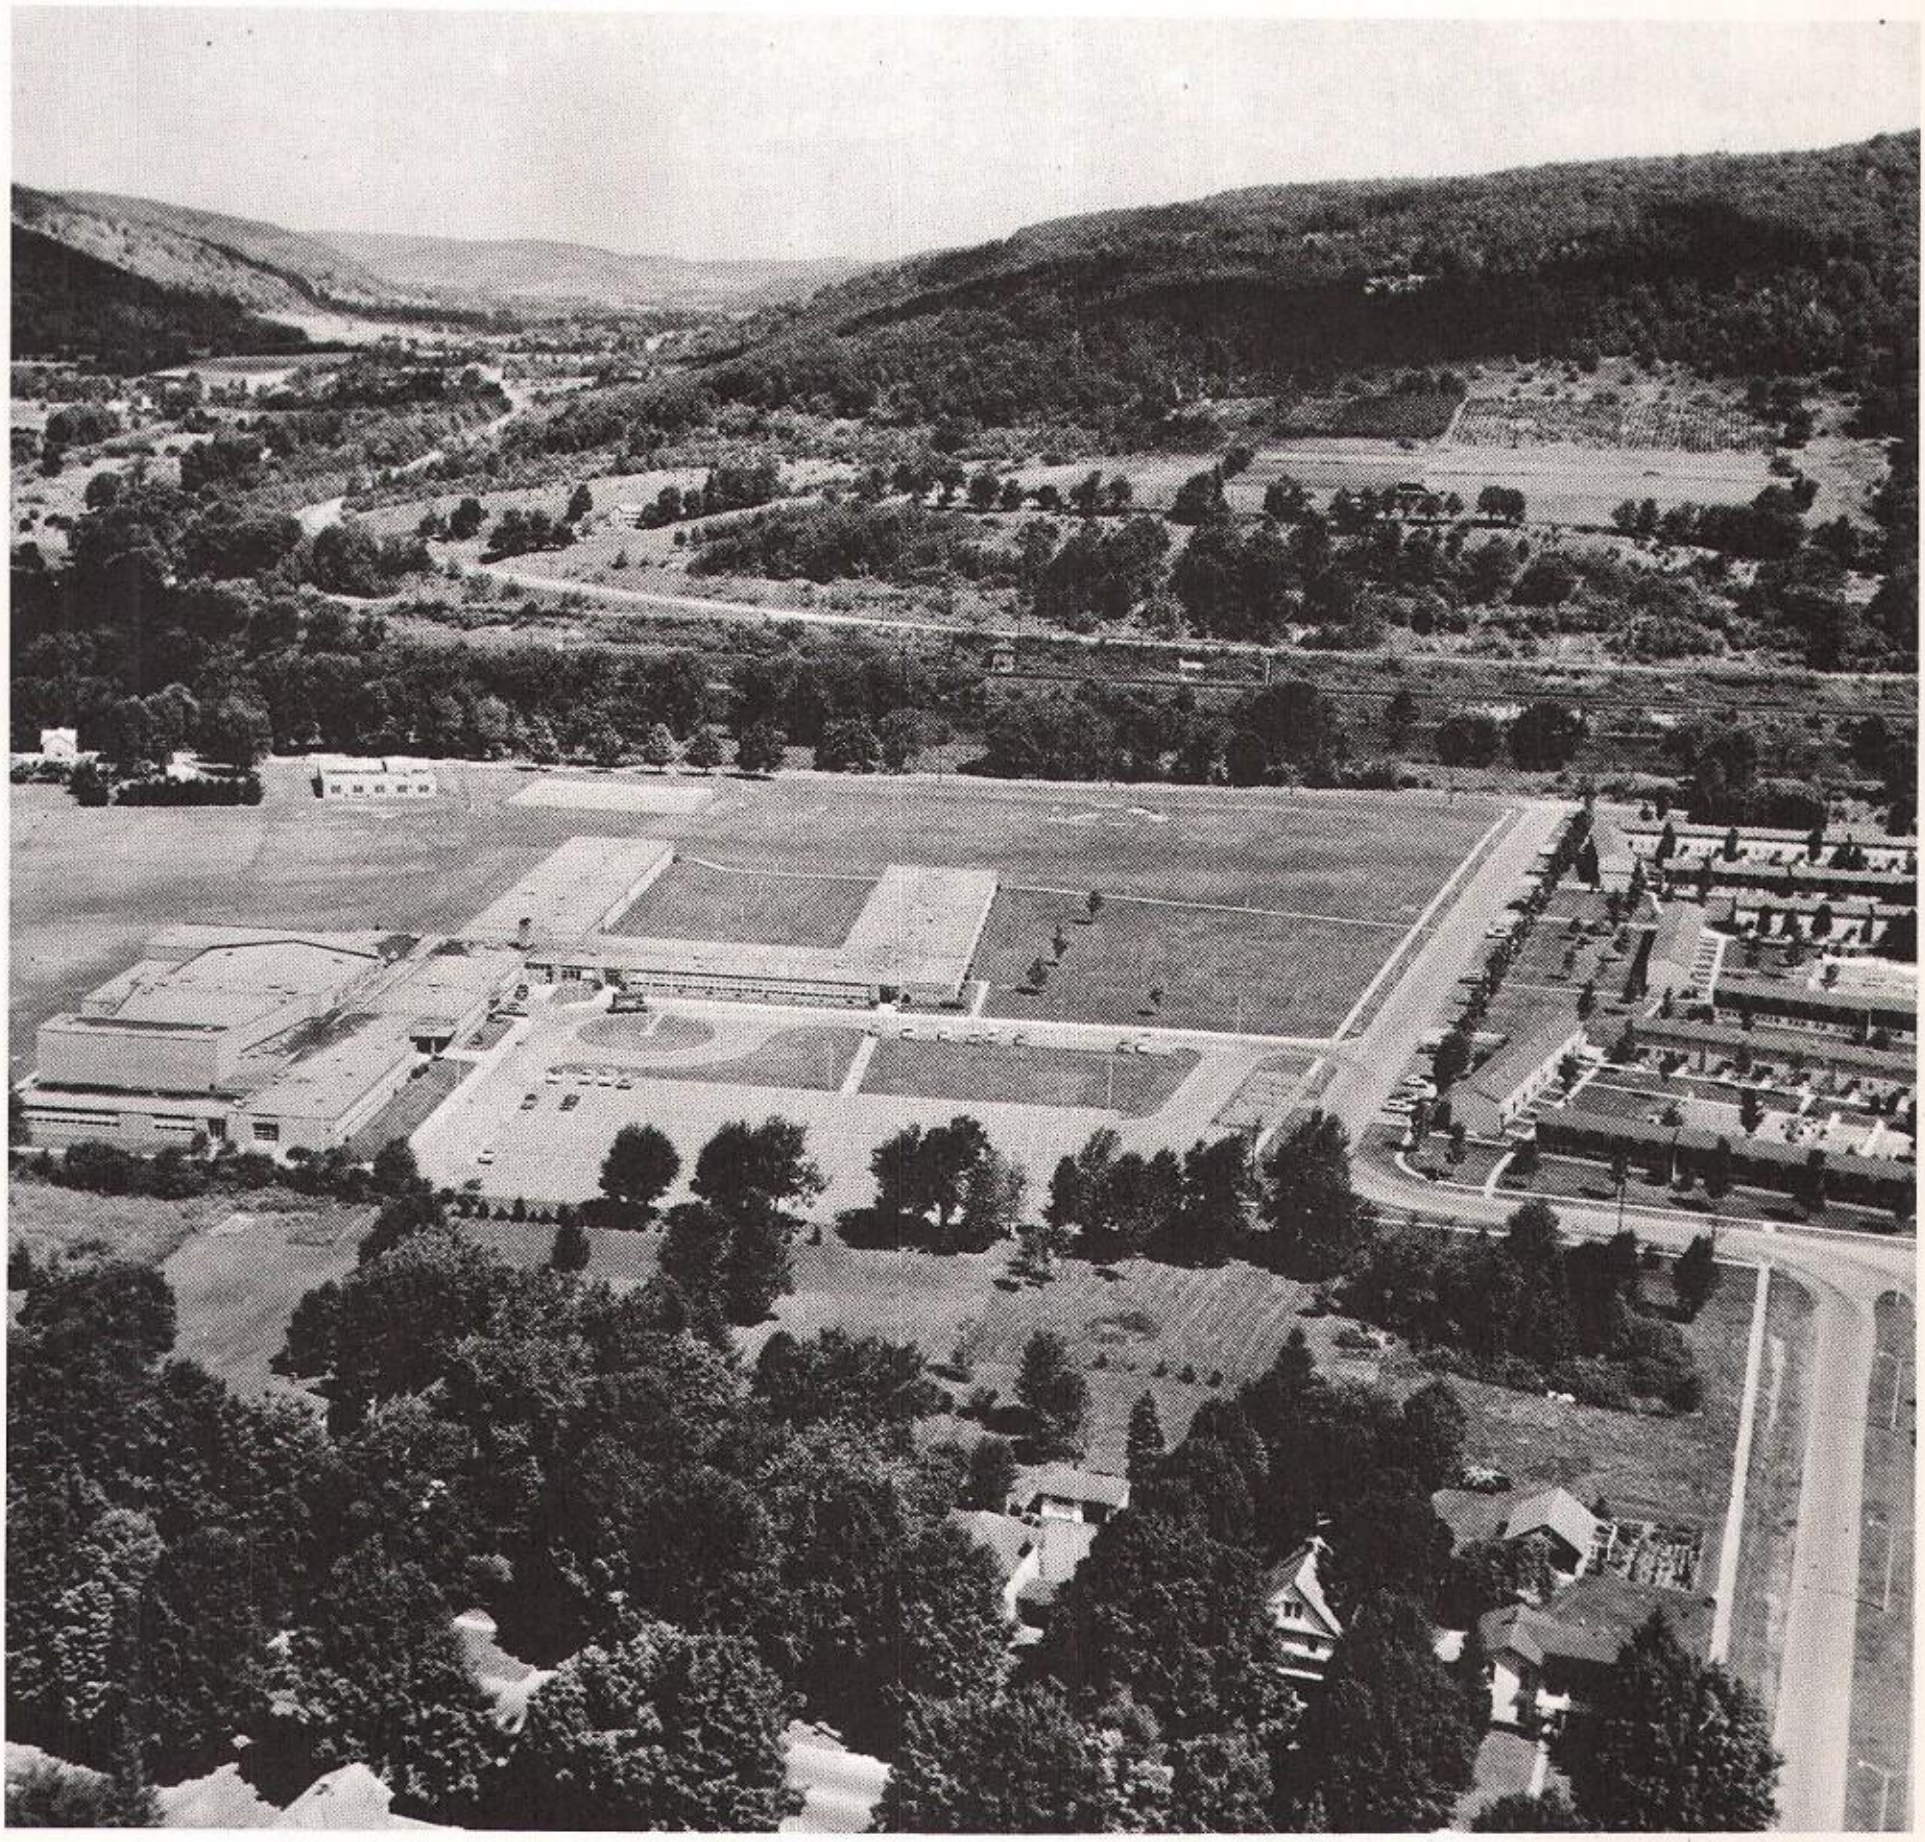






Salamanca, New York

A City on the Move



Ask yourself where you would find the only American city located on an Indian reservation? Where you would look for an American town named for a Spanish count? Where is there an eastern rail freight terminal ten miles from the Atomic Energy Commission's first approved nuclear storage facility and located on the largest artificial lake east of the Mississippi? The answer is Salamanca, New York. These questions were posed in an article published in a recent issue of "Water Journal," a magazine published by the Rockwell Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh.

The article recounts the recent construction of the Kinzua Dam and Allegheny Reservoir just southwest of the city, and the development of the Nuclear Service Center in the Town of Ashford to the north. In this day of critical water shortages the author points out that Salamanca overlies a vast underground lake which provides it with an almost inexhaustible supply of pure, cold water. The article concludes with the statement: that new people and new industries are on their way to the Salamanca area.

Salamanca is ideally situated geographically for those who like the leisurely pace and feeling of a small city and yet desire the proximity and stimulation of a metropolitan area. It is sixty-two miles from Buffalo and the University of Buffalo and Buffalo State Teachers College. It is eighteen miles from Olean and St. Bonaventure University; eighteen miles from Bradford, Pennsylvania, and its branch of the University of Pittsburgh; thirty miles from Jamestown and the Jamestown Community College; and thirty miles from Fredonia and the campus of Fredonia State Teachers College.

The Allegany State Park, one of the largest parks in the state, is at our door offering summer and winter recreational opportunities; and the area is dotted with ski resorts, many of which are open the year round for golf, swimming and hiking.

The city, divided by the Allegheny River, has a population of 8,428. At the present time there are two parochial elementary schools and four public elementary schools two of which were constructed within the last four years, and a junior senior high school built nine years ago. The total school enrollment in the public schools is 2,307. Salamanca is justifiably proud of its schools and their dynamic leadership. It is a community that is not only looking ahead but working ahead.

Faculty

The administration of our schools by the Board of Education is an integral part of the functioning of our school system. Presided over by Herbert C. Myers, the school board strives to achieve and maintain a program of excellence and equality in education for all Salamanca's students.

Both the Board and our industrious superintendent, Dr. Paul E. Kirsch, have succeeded in turning the wheels of our educational system into high gear. Among the new programs initiated were modern math, the initial teaching alphabet, and revisions in the science curriculum. Salamanca also received a grant from the Ford Foundation to begin an investigation of the education of the American Indian in the United States.

The Board also adopted the middle school concept as a generalized goal for the future growth of the Salamanca City School District.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

In today's world, mathematics has become more than just adding and subtracting. Mathematics is now the language of science, and many of today's careers require a firm foundation in this subject.

Modern math has been increasingly emphasized in recent years and has been introduced in Salamanca. The language of math includes much new terminology and many new methods. This year, as an aid to college-bound seniors, a course in the new mathematics was taught during the eighth period.

Is Language . . .

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

In the study of the English language, as in other fields, new methods and new studies have been introduced. These new methods aid in the preservation of the English language, which is essential as a means of communication in today's world.

English teachers strive for excellence in the oral and written portions of our language. They try, also, to help students to understand the intricacies of English and to develop the ability to use this understanding well.

This year, the English department has developed paperback libraries of recommended and worthwhile volumes in grades seven through twelve.

The purpose of these libraries is to foster an appreciation for the heritage that is ours as English speaking people and to offer students a wide range of experiences. The availbility of these books made it very easy for students to pick up copies that interested them.

We can only judge the literary merits of our modern and future literature, if we have a working knowledge of the literature of the past and of its excellence and weaknesses. This continuing cultural progress is made possible through an articulated reading program which exposes us to the finest achievements of the ages from the Odyssey to A Passage To India. The history of mankind's dreams, achievements and failures are presented for the discriminate reader.

The purpose of social studies is the education of people in the events which occur in the world around them. A knowledge of history and geography helps a person to determine the course of his life and to become more aware of the events of today, which will become the history of tomorrow. An understanding of the happenings of the world helps in making decisions and creates informed citizens capable of voting for the best qualified candidates, impartially seeking the truth, and participating in discussions with other people.

Next year, a revised social studies program will be begun in Salamanca. It is hoped that this program will aid the student in becoming well informed about the past, the present, and what may lie in the future.

Science Opens New Worlds

Too much importance cannot be given to science in today's world. Increases in scientific knowledge and in the awareness of technological advances have become more evident than ever in recent years.

The betterment of society has become possible through advances in medical research, and our nations prominent peace in world leadership is due largely to prestige gained through scientific breakthroughs. Today's students have become increasingly aware of the importance of science, and are educated in order to become able to use the principles of science as well as to learn them. Reasoning and logic are developed and used in the formation of scientific conclusions. Experimentation and demonstration are promoted, and students are given the opportunity to increase their knowledge and use; and through science, to hold a share in the future.

Business Department

There are four major fields in the Business Department. The first is the Non Vocational Business Course which prepares the student to accept a position in the Bookkeeping field. The courses in this area are Introduction to Business, Business Arithmetic, Typing, Business Law, and Bookkeeping. The second major field is Distributive Education, which prepares the student to accept a position in the retailing or merchandising area. The courses usually taken in this sequence are Introduction to Business, Retailing 1 and Retailing 2, Business Law, Bookkeeping and Typing. The third major field is the Vocational Secretarial Course which prepares the student to accept a position as a secretary or stenographer in nearly any type of office. The course of this sequence are Shorthand 1, Typing, Shorthand 2 and Transcription, and Secretarial Practice, with Business Arithmetic, Business Law, and Bookkeeping as elective. For students who do not have shorthand skill there is another area called the Office Practice Course. This area prepares the student to accept office positions other than those requiring shorthand skill. A great deal of this area is devoted to learning the office machines used in Business Administration. The courses of this area are usually Introduction to Business, Typing, Business Arithmetic, Office Practice with Bookkeeping and Business Law as electives. Other than the above four areas, the only other courses offered in the Business Department are Typing and Notehand, geared toward college bound students.

The main purpose of the department is to develop the vocational skills of those students who are non academic and are preparing for an occupation in business.

This past year we stated a program using Shorthand magazines in the Secretarial area, but it had to be cancelled for the second semester. We will try to do this again next year. The activities of the Business Department during the year are the Annual D.E. Club picnic, the D.E. Annual Field Trip to a large department store, and participation in the Local, Area, and State Distributive Education Contests.

A cheery bonjour, buenos dias or salve will introduce you to the world of foreign languages.

With today's emphasis on communications, languages have assumed a major importance in modern day thinking. Through the study of language, an insight is gained into the ideas, customs, and culture of other people, and thus, our own comprehension is widened. In order to help students to attain a thorough working knowledge of a foreign language, our school offers programs of intensive study in French, Latin, and Spanish. An electronic language lab adds interest to the modern languages, while Latin provides increased understanding of English and of the romance languages. Salamanca's language department has broadened the scope of this program so that students may more easily meet the challenges of the ever-shrinking world of today.

MUSIC AND ART

The purpose of the Music and the Art Departments is the development of talent in these fields and the increase of awareness of our culture.

In the Music Department, students are taught to sing and play and to read and perform various types and periods of music. The music instructors strive to have this music performed as well as possible, and to develop such musical tastes that the student of today may become tomorrow's critic. To further these aims and to demonstrate progress, the Music Department gives a number of concerts each year, and students are selected for participation in Solo festivals and All-County and All-State Choruses and Bands.

In the Art Department, as in other departments, new methods of teaching have been introduced. As well as engaging in participation, art students this year studied the works of various artists and used certain new techniques. Courses were offered in design, commercial art, painting, drawing, and ceramics.

LIBRARY

The library is Salamanca High School's storehouse of knowledge. Here one may find materials for research, a source of pleasure, a place for study, and a means of self-improvement. Each year, many new books are purchased and made available to the students. Also, many periodicals and reference volumes may be found in the library. Instruction in the proper use of the library is provided for students from the seventh to the tenth grades, so that they may take full advantage of the opportunities offered them here.

Driver Education

DRIVER EDUCATION

As the flow of traffic on our country's highways increases, the necessity of being a careful driver becomes more and more obvious. Many new drivers appear on the roads each year, and a large proportion of these are teenagers. It is the aim of the driver education department to educate these teenagers in the various traffic laws and to teach them to safely and correctly operate an automobile under the supervision of a qualified instructor.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The importance of physical fitness is recognized in the physical education requirements for graduation from nearly all high schools and colleges. The physical education program includes calisthentics, team sports, and organized intramural and interscholastic competition. In our well-equipped gymnasium, such team sports as volleyball are taught, and opportunity is offered for participation in gymnastics and dancing. Activity is promoted also in our school's full-sized swimming pool.

The Physical Education department promotes the understanding of sports and the development of a sense of fair play and competition, as well as physical fitness.

Students were taught Mechanical Drawing by Mrs. Horney and Auto Mechanics by Mr. Bess.

As a special feature each year, the Edward John Memorial Award is given to a junior and senior high boy who is outstanding scholastically and in conduct, school spirit, sportsmanship and citizenship. A tie clasp is presented at the Awards assembly in June.

Home Economics Department

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

The homemaking education program prepares and assists individuals to think creatively, to gain an understanding of human relationships, and to gain skills in homemaking tasks to help them achieve satisfying home and community living. The courses offered range from the science of basic foods and nutrition to a primary knowledge in the art of sewing. Good grooming classes aid the student in improving his personal habits.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Salamanca High School offers a system of special education for those students who, for various reasons, are adjudged unable to participate in regular studies, as well as the regular high school curriculum. Classes are held in various classrooms, with this group passing classes at the same time as the rest of the school, and opportunity is offered these students to participate in various regular programs, such as business courses, industrial arts, and homemaking. When the student's full potential is reached and a suitable occupation is found for him or her, a certificate is given at the regular graduation exercises.

Without the combined skill and knowledge of the Health Department the active students would not be able to perform their regular daily routines.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

Perhaps the most important of all school departments is the guidance department. It is here that students determine their courses of study, both present and future, and gain assistance in choosing a career well-suited to their abilities. These abilities are determined through various aptitude tests, which reveal a student's potential.

The guidance counselors help each student to choose useful subjects and to work out any scheduling or study problems that may arise. Special guidance is given seniors in selecting, applying, and gaining admission to the college of their choice.

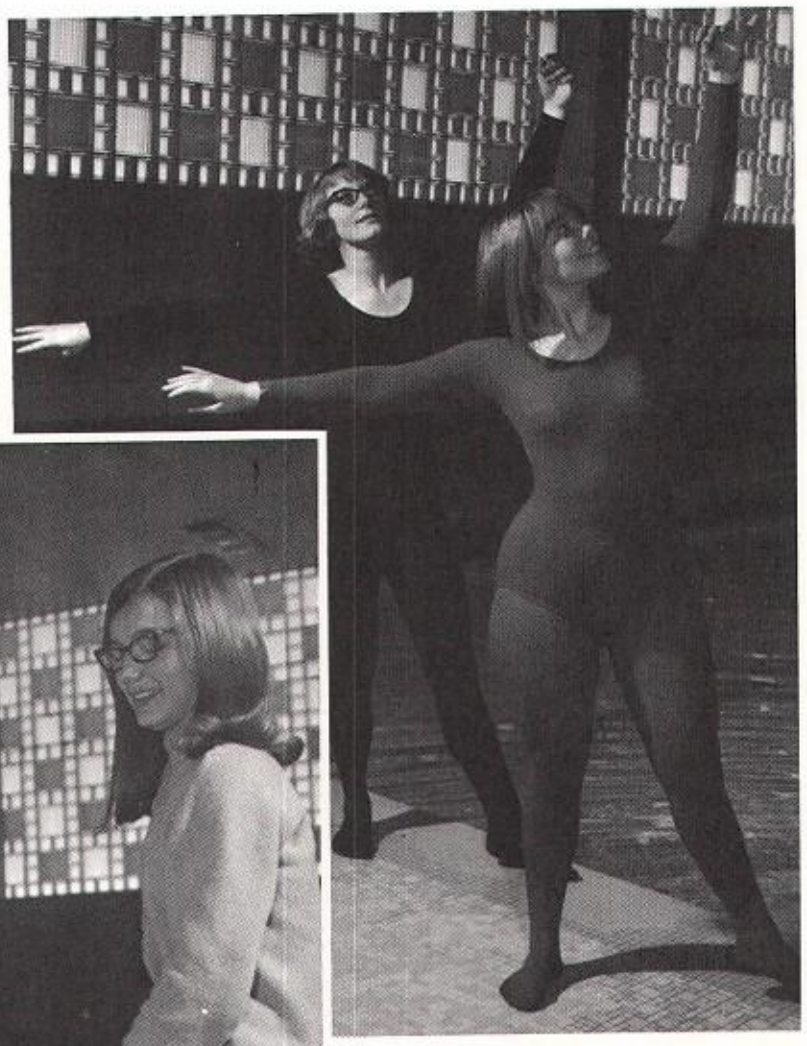
Script writers Calla Smith and Sandy Bolton Discuss this year's theme with Mrs. Goergen.



Pat Seitz and Sharon Ambuske performed this year's duet, "Me and My Shadow".

uccess

New members are chosen, committees devised—
New ideas, discussion, decision:
Theme: "The Land of Make Believe" . . .
Group divisions, search for music,
Solo, trio, duet, quartets . . .
Choreography is begun, practice makes perfect,
Wet, wet, wetter, SPLASH!
Script writing, taping, decorations and costumes—
Harried advisor, just one more practice—
Then spring, and the show:
Applause, approval, gratification.

The comedy number is a favorite with the Aquanaut's audience.

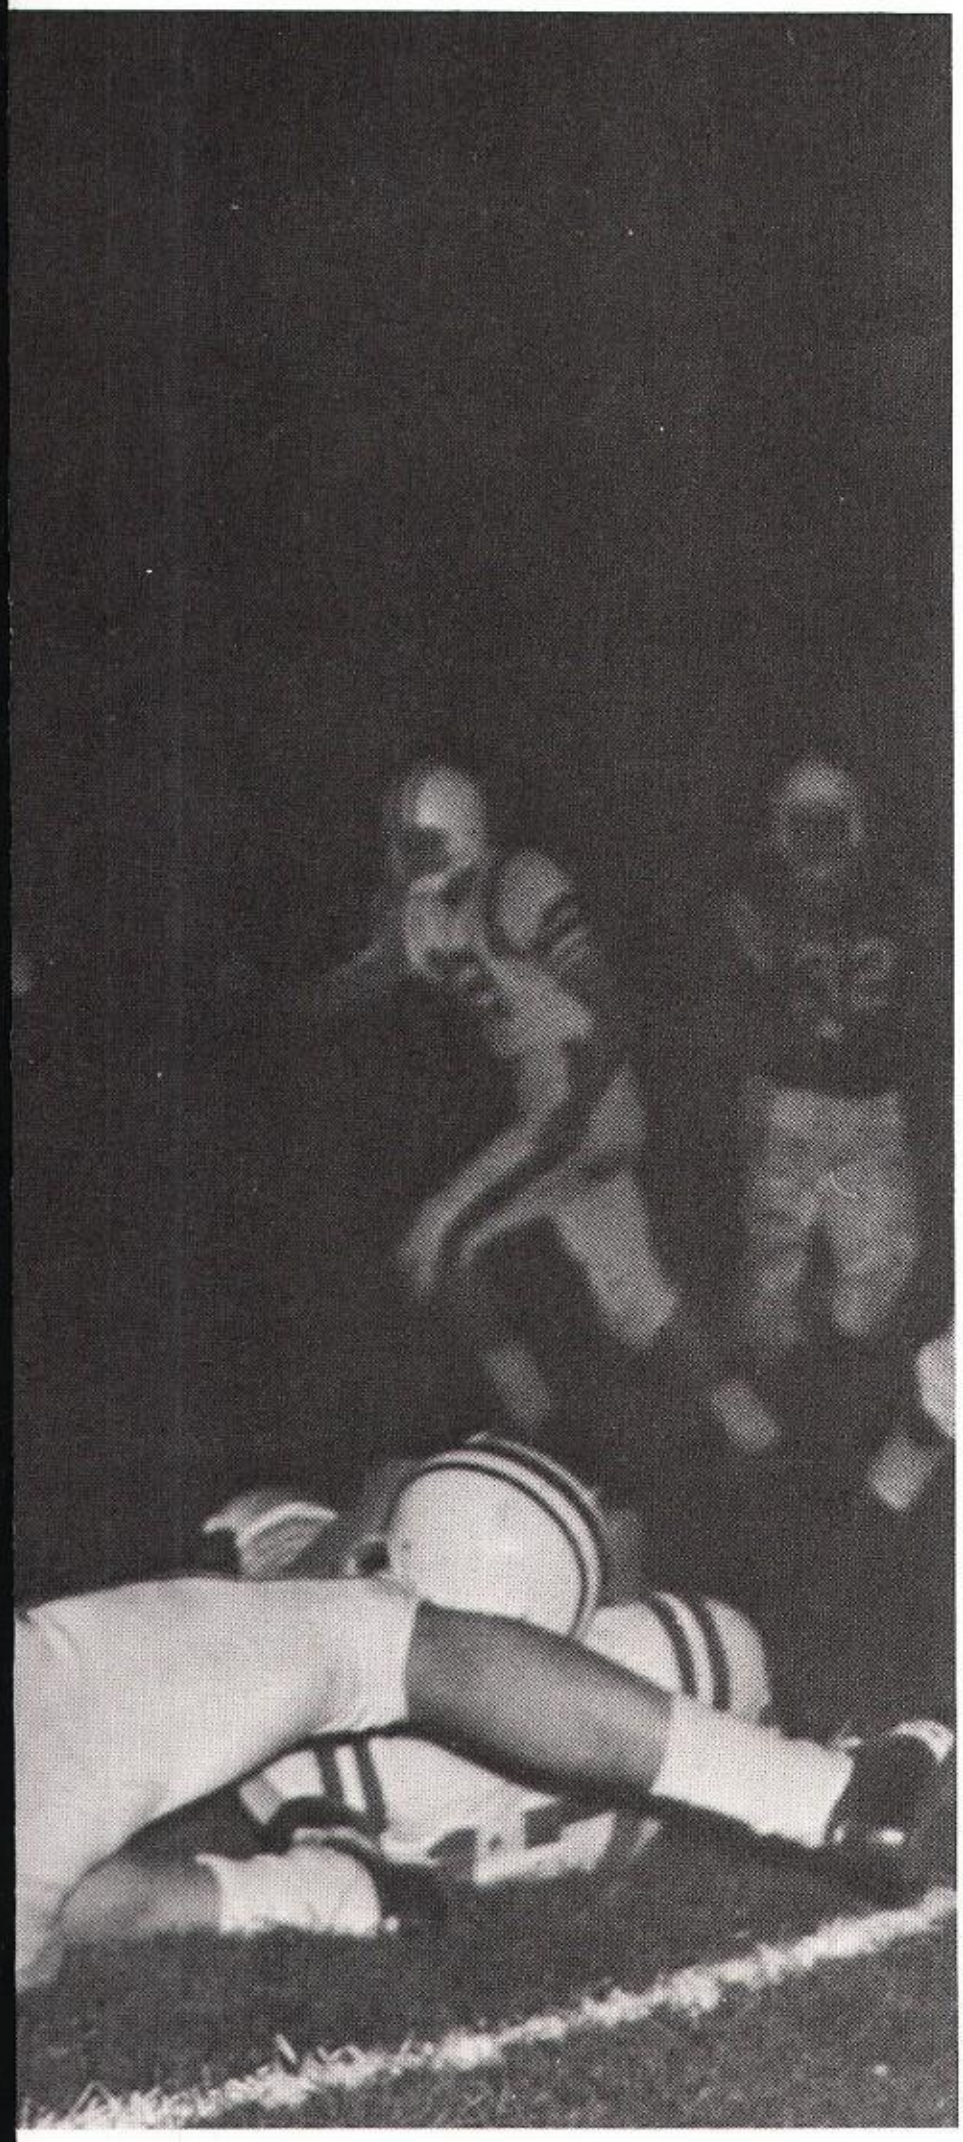
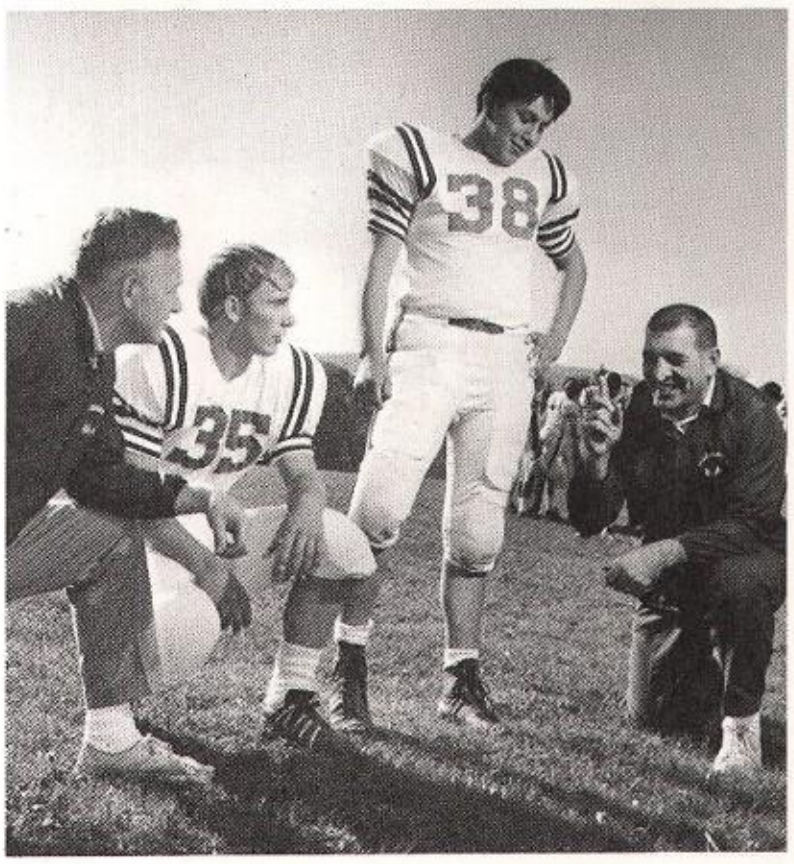
Warriors Capture Trophy





Assistant Coach Crandall, Co-Captains Brad Brown, Dennis Bowen, Head Coach Sanfilippo.

SEPTEMBER 17—
WARRIORS DOWN GRAND ISLAND

The Warriors first game of 1966, ushered in another winning season. Terry Riley led the way with the first TD. Early in the third quarter Brad Brown cracked over from the four for a 13-0 lead. The Islanders were unable to move the ball and had to punt. Ken Drugg ran the punt back 44 yards, and six plays later the Warriors went through the tiring Viking line to the 22. Crist connected with Prybylo for the first pass attempt of the season, and he raced in from the 15 to score. The score became 19-0 as the placement was blocked. As the reserves took over, Milanowski bolted to the one and then went across for the final score of 25-0.

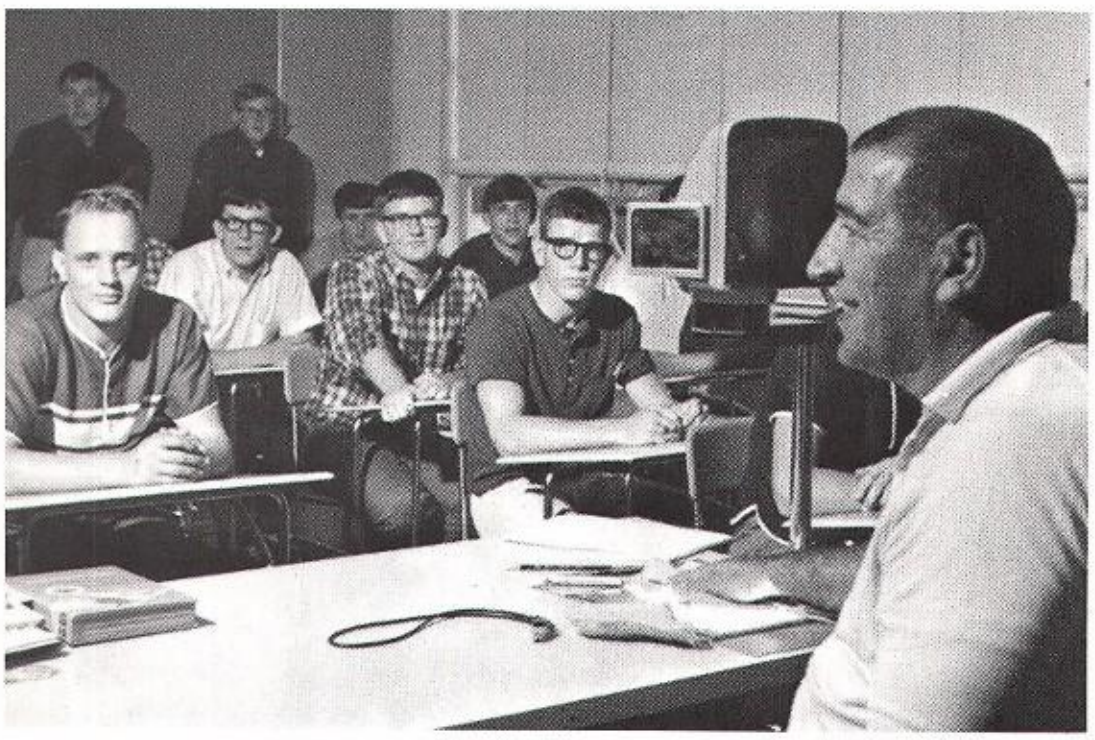
OCTOBER 14—SALLIES UPSET FALCONS

Salamanca, needing a victory to take first place in the Southwestern Conference, battled to a 20-7 victory over Falconer. After trailing 7-0 at the end of the first half, Sallies came roaring back to move the ball 60 yards after the kickoff. Senior halfback, Gene Oyler, went the final 19 yards for the first TD, but the point after touchdown was blocked. Minutes later, junior, Tom Prybylo, intercepted Falconer quarterback Piazza's pass on his own 42 and raced 58 yards for the second TD of the game. The score became 13-0 as Crist kicked the extra point. Halfway through the fourth quarter, junior halfback Bob Vail raced 67 yards off his left tackle to score, and the final victory was clinched as Crist again kicked the extra point, making the final score 20-7.



Chalk Talks helped build championship team.

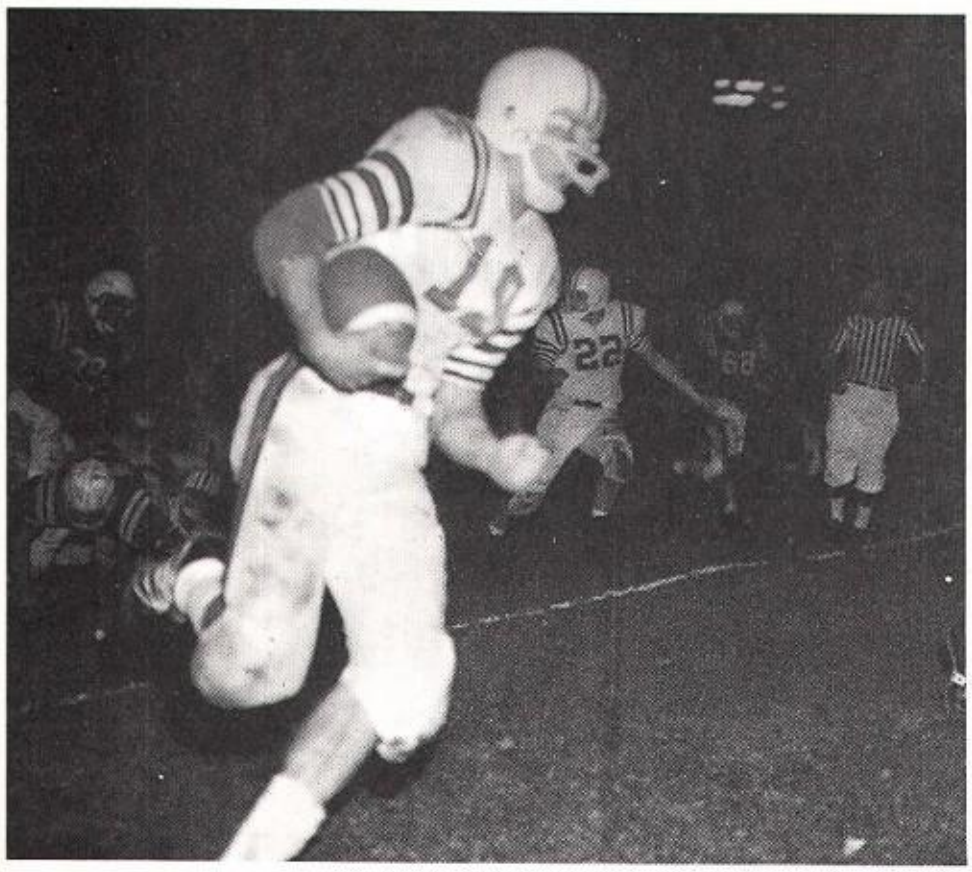
OCTOBER 29—SALLIES TROMP PANTHERS

Warriors clinched this year's Southwestern Conference Championship by downing the Gowanda Panthers 13-13. Since this was the third year in a row that Salamanca has captured this title, and the conference trophy became the permanent property of Salamanca.

Against Gowanda, Warriors staged one of the highest scoring first two quarters ever seen at their home park. The Panthers were outclassed from the beginning as Sallies hit for two TD's in the first quarter and then hit for five in the spectaular second period.

Coach Sanfilippo used his entire second and third strings the second half. They failed to score but they marched to the 26 and 31 yard lines in the third and fourth quarters. It was the seniors last home game and they seemed only too happy to see the goal posts go down in a blaze of triumph.

This year's juniors led by Tom Jackson, Mike Stratton, Bob Vail, and Butch Oldshield, show promise of another strong team next year.



Oyer outraces Panthers for TD.

NOVEMBER 5—
OLEAN ENDS WARRIORS WIN STREAK

For the first time in fifteen years, the Warriors played Olean High School and renewed the great rivalry which exists between the two schools. The excitement reached fever pitch at Bradner Stadium in Olean when the two teams took the field. Olean received the opening kick-off only to lose it as Wallen fumbled the ball and junior Mike Stratton fell on it for the Sallies. Three plays later, Salamanca scored as Dennis Bowen fell on a Salamanca fumble in the end zone. Sallies attempt for the extra point was unsuccessful by inches. With only one minute and thirteen seconds left in the first half, Olean's Hernquist scored their TD and on the same play scored the decisive point. Sala's last serious threat occurred late in the third quarter when they marched to the one yard line. This game ended Salamanca's 23 game winning streak and left them 6-1-1 for the season.

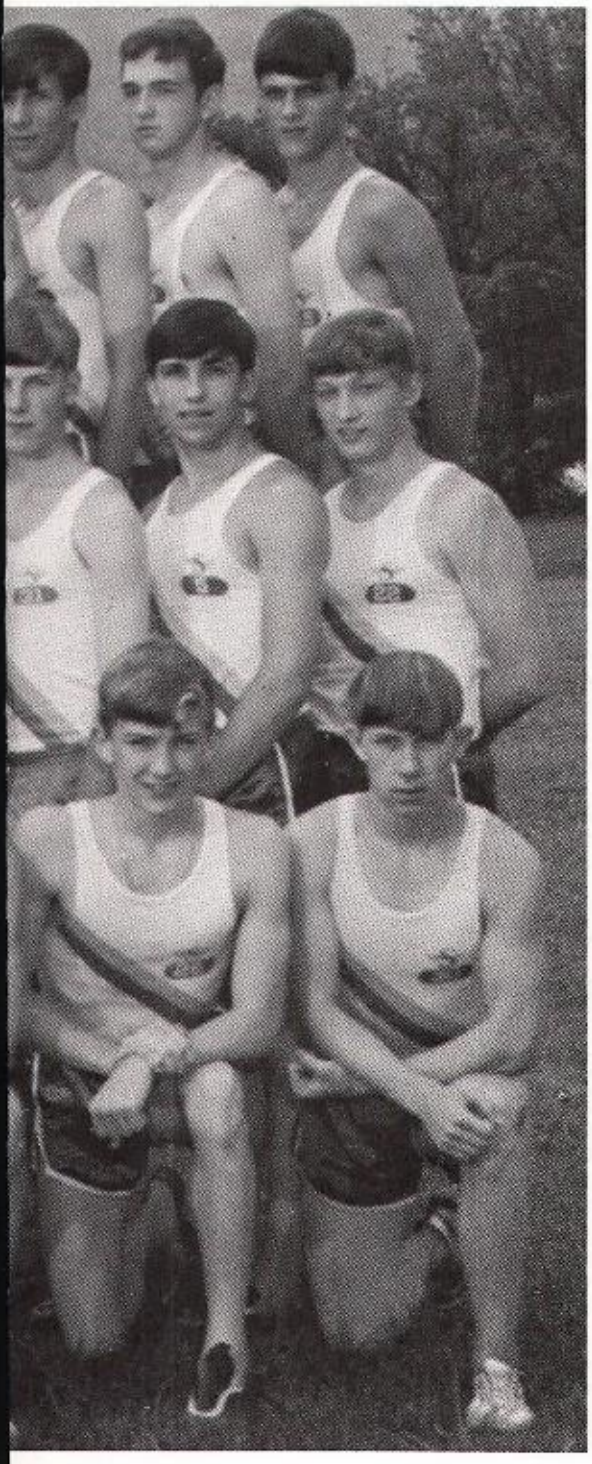
on Conference Titles



The 1966 Track and Field team surprised everyone when they posted a 10-1 record. Included in the victories were the Sallies Ninth consecutive Cattaraugus County championship, the Southwestern Conference championship and the Section VI, Class A Championship, the third in a row for Coach Louis C. Foy's Warriors.

Having lost many starters from the previous year, the word was out that the Warriors would have to struggle for a winning season. Instead, only Fredonia Central High School was able to defeat the gallant warriors.

Led by Seniors Jim Poole, who set two new school records along with a Conference and Sectional mark, and Rick Johnson, who set a new school record in the quarter mile, the Sallies rolled up one victory after another in the traditional form that has marked Warrior track squads over the past decade.

Poole became the first polevaulter in county history to clear the bar at 13 feet as he established a new record of 13 feet 2 inches. He also set a new mark in the high hurdles of 16.5 seconds.

Johnson shattered a fifteen year old record in the quarter miler when he traveled the 440 yards in 53.2 seconds becoming the finest quarter miler in the school's history.

Both Jim Poole and Rick Johnson carried the Warriors Red and Gray colors to West Point in June competing in the intersectional meet at the Point. Poole again cleared 13 feet finishing 6th out of twenty-four vaulters in the state competition.
